General Legal Counsel Services

Since the 1990s, JunHe has been providing general legal counsel services to various foreign investors for their investments in China and the foreign-invested enterprises established by such foreign investors in China. A great amount of JunHe's clients maintain cooperation relationships with JunHe for over a decade. Thanks to JunHe's over twenty years' experience in serving foreign enterprises and foreign-invested enterprises, JunHe has a high reputation and prestige for its foreign investment services, which include general legal counsel services.

In addition to foreign enterprises and foreign-invested enterprises, JunHe also provides general legal counsel services to various kinds of enterprises (including state-owned enterprises and private enterprises) and individuals.

JunHe's general legal counsel services team consists of various partners and professional lawyers from JunHe's domestic and overseas offices worldwide, among which a great number have gained overseas study and work experiences. This ensures our lawyers' ability to work both in Chinese and English, and enables our team to have a deeper understanding to clients' inquires and to be able to propose optimum solutions based on the clients' practical needs.

Our general legal counsel services mainly include the following aspects:

- Advising on legal and compliance issues in respect to clients' daily operation;
- Drafting, reviewing and revising daily business operation contracts, including business cooperation agreements, distribution agreements, purchase contracts, sales contracts, service contracts, confidentiality agreements, license agreements and other legal documents;
- Analyzing and answering questions in respect to various legal issues concerning intellectual property rights, labor laws, tax and environmental protection which occur in the business operation of foreign-invested enterprises, and assisting clients in handling general disputes over labor and personnel matters;
- Assisting clients in handling disputes and controversies prior to litigation and arbitration, and representing clients in issuing attorney letters, demand letters and other documents to third parties;

JunHe, founded in Beijing in 1989, is one of the first private partnership law firms in China. Since its establishment, JunHe has grown to be one of the largest and most recognized Chinese law firms. The firm has twelve offices around the world and a team comprised of more than 1070 professionals, including over 320 partners and legal counsel, as well as over 750 associates and legal translators.

They (JunHe) have a strong client-oriented approach.
