Silicon Valley Office

JunHe, founded in Beijing in 1989, is one of the first private partnership law firms in China. Since its establishment, JunHe has grown to be a large and recognized Chinese law firm. The firm has fourteen offices around the world and a team comprised of more than a thousand professionals.

Since its establishment in 2010, the JunHe Silicon Valley Office has become an important Chinese IP and business law adviser on the very soil of the United States. It is one of the very few law firms in the Americas that can provide a full range of Chinese legal services. At the same time, the Silicon Valley Office also acts as a major gateway for Chinese clients entering the U.S. market.

Our Team

All partners at the Silicon Valley Office are graduates from famous universities around the world and have years of working experience at distinguished law firms in China and the U.S.

As a well-respected patent attorney for more than a decade, and the managing partner of the Silicon Valley Office and the head of the Intellectual Property Department of JunHe, Dr. James Zhu has a Ph.D. from California Institute of Technology and holds a J.D. and MBA degrees from Columbia University. Dr. Zhu has been named by Business Week as one of the most influential “sea turtles” (U.S. returnees) in the Sino-American community.

Invest in the United States

Partners at the Silicon Valley Office have decades of experience in cross-border transactions between the two countries. We provide a full range of legal services to Chinese companies for their investments and acquisitions in the U.S., particularly as legal advisors in organizing a professional team to help clients with anti-trust review, export control, CFIUS review, due diligence, drafting merger and financing agreements, contract negotiations, closings and solving various legal issues foreseen during the course of investment.

IP Practices

Litigation – we assist clients in enforcing patent rights through initiating or defending infringement suits in Chinese courts;

Administrative Action – we assist clients to promptly cease third party infringement activities via administrative proceedings and provide defence to protect clients' interests in such proceedings;

Patent invalidation proceedings – we work with clients in patent invalidation matters in the Re-examination Board of the State Intellectual Property Office of China and the courts;

Patent and trademark applications – we assist clients in patent rights and trademark applications in China, filing international application materials and patent applications in the U.S.;

Strategy & Counselling – we advise clients concerning China-specific IP issues and general IP strategies to reduce IP risks in the evolving IP environment in China;

Opinions (Freedom-to-Operate & Patentability) – we search and analyze patents relevant to clients' products or technologies, assess possibilities of infringement, design-around or invalidity of third party patents, evaluate patentability and scope for clients' own patents or applications, and render legal opinions under PRC law;

Technology Transfer and Licensing – we assist clients in technology transfer, collaboration, development, licensing and other types of technology-related agreements, particular in cross-border transactions.
